Notes & Details

The Hakka Chopper Machine utilizes the high-speed whirling action of its chopping knife to efficiently cut meat pieces, shredded meat, and fat into meat stuffing or meat paste. Constructed entirely from food-grade stainless steel, it boasts a sturdy design with blade sets of high hardness, up to 52 degrees, ensuring durability and consistent performance. The machine's electric components feature a waterproof design for good sealing and easy cleaning, meeting international hygiene standards. Despite its powerful performance, the machine operates with low noise and high efficiency, offering remarkable energy savings. The speed of the chopping knife and pot is perfectly synchronized, resulting in short chopping times and minimal temperature increase of the material. Designed with safety in mind, the on/off power switch only operates when the bowl cover is securely locked in place. The "S" shape blade ensures high speed and efficiency, saving labor and time with its impressive rotation. The removable bowl cover, knives, and bowl make cleaning easy. This versatile machine is perfect for both meat and vegetables, capable of chopping, blending, and emulsifying ingredients quickly and effectively. Ideal for use in commercial kitchens, butcher shops, and food processing plants.
